

WICKED WEST

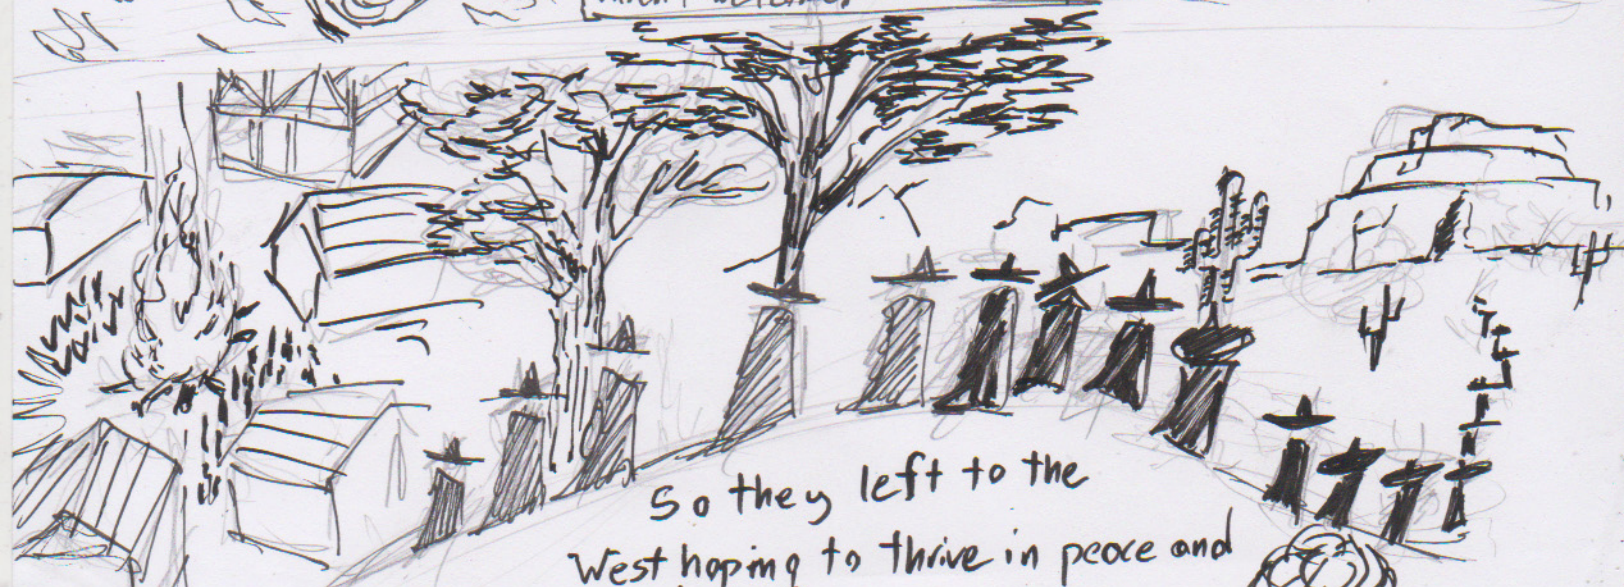

Once upon a time witches practiced their craft in the solitude of the woods. Even there they were not safe from the prying gaze of the public

They were drawn out, hunted and burned. ~~After~~ It wasn't long before they learned they weren't welcome.

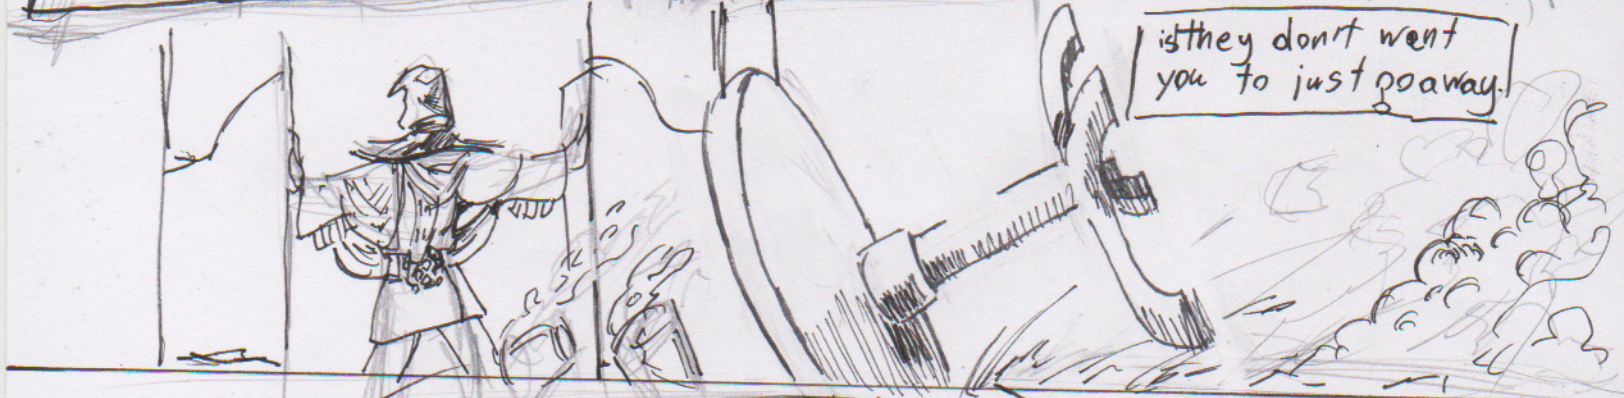

So they left to the West hoping to thrive in peace and quiet.

Thing about people who want you gone

is they don't want you to just go away.

How about we settle this outside.

You wanna say
that to my face?
Little lady!?

Don't be like that.
Just take a little out on the town.

Now, you are under arrest!! Comply or you waddle like you own

They would pull a

anyone they point it at will die.

This isn't a word

That's no
warlock.

I'm glad you're safe, but you could have been killed back there

But worse than that,
those god fearing monsters
are coming here

He's not to leave his cell, alive

No! He didn't know about witches till I showed up!!

Katie, you

Men like him don't travel alone. It won't be long before they start hunting us again.

NO

Girl you look like a mirror

I remember having that face after I escaped the plantation
and the witch hunters
suspected I was possessed
...fled west and never looked back.

I've seen plenty like her but few
survive alone out here.
I plan on help whoever
I can.

So we got your back

Especially against those.
